WHAT YOU NEED:

Broad Bean Seeds

Module Trays

Small Pots

Compost (multi-purpose)

Support Sticks

Trowel / Hoe

1 Inside

Broad beans can be grown indoors from February onwards.

Fill your module tray/pots with compost.

Plant the large seeds 5cm deep in individual modules or small pots.

Plant outdoors when the weather and soil warms.

2 Outside

When growing broad beans in the garden, use a trowel to create x2 rows 23cm apart.

If you place the seeds staggered across double rows, you'll get a larger yield.

Plant the seeds 5cm deep in the soil.

3 Care

Keep plants well watered.

Broad Beans prefer full sun. Plant seeds and position young plants in a sheltered location, away from strong winds.

Use a hoe to regularly remove weeds between the rows.
